

JB Priestley (Estate)

Playwright

John Boynton Priestley was born in 1894. He went to Belle Vue High School, which he left aged 16 to join a wool office as a junior clerk. While there he wrote in his spare time; in 1913 SECRETS OF THE RAGTIME KING was published in the London Opinion. He also wrote a weekly column for Bradford Labour paper during this time.

Agents

Kate Walsh

kwalsh@unitedagents.co.uk