RESERVOIR 2023 Salt Publishing	At the International Conference Centre in Geneva, Hannah Rossier, formerly Annie Price, comes face to face with Neville Weir, someone from her childhood whom she never expected, or wanted, to meet again. As Neville's reasons for attending the conference become clear, the dark waters of Hannah's past start to rise. Hannah is a psychotherapist, with a specialist interest in memory and how connections are made between past and present. She has reinvented herself successfully, moving from a small northern town in England to Lucerne, Switzerland, with her husband, Thibaut. Nobody, not even Hannah, knows the full truth about herself. Her 'memories' consist of glimpses of the place where she played in childhood, known simply as 'The Wild'. Over the three days of the conference she has to decide whether she can avoid Neville, or whether she should submit to an encounter with him and with her past. And in her keynote lecture about the neuroscience of memory, how much to conceal or reveal. But can her specialism save her from drowning?
ACCESSION 2016 Fig Tree / Penguin	The concluding part to the trilogy sees the tragic demise of Alice Chancer, Margaret of Anjou and Edward IV's mistress Jane Shore and the seizing of the throne by Henry VII, the first Tudor monarch.
REBELLION 2015 Fig Tree / Penguin	In exile in France with their young son Prince Edward, Margaret of Anjou at last gives up on promises of aid by King Louis and sets sail for England. There she will return her husband Henry to the throne - and ensure young Edward will be its heir. Meanwhile, Margaret Beaufort, separated from her son Henry of Richmond when he was an infant, sees the unrest surrounding the Lancastrian defeat as her chance to finally get him back. But the steps she takes to return her son imperil the kingdom and the throne's current occupant - King Edward IV. With Rebellion tearing the country apart, how far will each woman go to further the interests of their sons. And who can stand in their way?
SUCCESSION 2014 Fig Tree / Penguin	Margaret of Anjou, beautiful, unpopular, her marriage to a young Henry VI causes national uproar. English rule in France collapses, Henry goes insane, civil war erupts. Margaret Beaufort nobly born but distant from the throne is lonely and vulnerable. By the age of 13 she has been married twice and given birth to her only son- the future King of England. But then she is separated from him and her fight really begins.
INHERITANCE 2000 Penguin, Viking	Louise Kenworthy's only bequest from her mother is a photograph album in which she finds the face of another woman - strangely like her own - which seems to have been excised from the family tree. Who is she, and what relevance could her life have for Louise?
IN THE DARK AIR 1997 Secker and Warburg	Julie has always loved Mick, despite his lack of interest. After school she loses track of him, only to find him again. Mick's journey has been through unemployment and homelessness, Julie's through loss and a growing fascination for "Mind Power". To carry on, drastic measures are required.

THEIR ANGEL REACH 1994
 Secker and Warburg

This novel, in five parts, traces the sexual and social connections between its main characters. These are women from a single Lancashire village, seeking to recover against the odds, some sense of being and purpose in lives dominated by poverty, violence and fantasy.

Winner of the Geoffrey Faber Prize for Fiction 1995
 Shortlisted: John Steinbeck Prize 1995; John Llewellyn Rhys/Daily Mail Prize 1995
