

Patrick Neate

Writer

Patrick Neate is an award-winning novelist, critic, scriptwriter and founder of literary event, Book Slam. He won the 2001 Betty Trask Award with his novel MUSUNGU JIM AND THE GREAT CHIEF TULOKO, and the 2001 Whitbread Novel Award for TWELVE BAR BLUES. His work has been published in most major UK newspapers and magazines, widely anthologised and broadcast on radio and television.

Agents

Georgina Carrigan
gcarrigan@unitedagents.co.uk

Associate Agent
Gemma Bicknell
gbicknell@unitedagents.co.uk

Credits

In Development

Production	Company	Notes
FRIENDLY FIRES	Pure Fiction	As Writer
ERGOSUM	Cosmopolitan Pictures	Original TV Series
LEGALIZE IT	Cowboy Films	Feature Prod: Charles Steel Dir: Kevin Macdonald

Film

Production	Company	Notes
------------	---------	-------

CITY OF TINY LIGHTS BBC Films/NDF International Dir: Pete Travis
2016 Prods: Rebecca O'Brien, Ado Yoshizaki
Cassuto
Starring Riz Ahmed, Billie Piper, Cush
Jumbo

THE TESSERACT Momentum Co-written with Oxide Chun Pang
2003 Adaptation of Alex Garland novel
Dir: Oxide Chun Pang
Prods: Soo-jun Bae, Jun Hara, Naoki Kai
Starring Jonathan Rhys Meyers, Saskia
Reeves
