

Chris England

Writer

Chris England is a writer and actor whose best-known work is the play An Evening With Gary Lineker, co-written with Arthur Smith, which was a success in the West End and on television. Other television writing includes Bostock's Cup, The Preventers, and Blind Men. He appeared in the Oscar-nominated film Lagaan, and wrote a book, Balham to Bollywood, about the experience, as well as a follow up, No More Buddha Only Football, about the 2002 football World Cup in Japan.

Chris is currently working on a novel called THE FUN FACTORY.

Agents

Charles Walker
cwalker@unitedagents.co.uk
+44 (0) 20 3214 0874

Associate Agent
Olivia Martin
omartin@unitedagents.co.uk
+44 (0) 20 3214 0778

Publications

Non-Fiction

Publication Details	Notes
HOW TO ENJOY THE WORLD CUP 2014 Old Street Publishing	The ultimate guide to the 2014 World Cup
NO MORE BUDDHA, ONLY FOOTBALL 2004 Sceptre	Chris England spent five weeks covering the 2002 World Cup, when football became Japan's newest religion, constantly on the lookout for the odd, the offbeat and the downright strange.

Publication Details	Notes
BALHAM TO BOLLYWOOD 2002 Hodder and Staughton	For most actors, the idea of going to India for eight weeks to act in a Bollywood epic shot in the middle of the desert would send them scurrying back to their agent asking for some other work. Chris England was given one such part, he was to play a cricketer in a British Army team playing against a small Indian village over a hundred years ago.
WHAT DIDN'T HAPPEN NEXT 1997 Andre Deutsch	What if the Hand of God had stayed in heaven and not with Maradona? What if Gareth Southgate had just whacked it in as his mother suggested, rather than heading instead for a life of Pizza adverts? And what was Don Revie doing with the sock tags at Elland Rd in the 70s? These and many other burning football questions are answered in Hancock's inimitable style. Great colour pictures complete a book that is always funny, usually irreverant and often plain mad. Good fun that will make football fanatics and non-fans alike laugh out loud.

Fiction

Publication Details	Notes
A BOXCAR OF FUN 2016 Old Street Publishing
THE FUN FACTORY 2014 Old Street Publishing
THE MEMOIRS OF ARTHUR DANDOE 2014 Old Street Publishing	