

Ian Whybrow

Children's Author

Before he took up writing full time, Ian Whybrow spent most of his working life as Head of English in a secondary school. He received rave reviews for the first of THE SNIFF STORIES in 1989. Since then, Sniff has appeared in four books and an equal number of BBC radio broadcasts. In March 1999 they were re-published as lead titles by Hodder, in a lively new paperback format with illustrations by Tony

Ross. One of a very small number of children's writers to have topped the best-seller lists, Ian has written over 60 children's books and is published in 21 languages in 24 countries.
