

Rosie Alison

Writer - Fiction

Rosie Alison grew up in Yorkshire, and read English at Keble College, Oxford. She spent ten years directing television documentaries before becoming a film producer at Heyday Films. She is married with two daughters and lives in London.

Agents

Anna Webber

awebber@unitedagents.co.uk

+44(0)203 214 0876

Associate

Seren Adams

sadams@unitedagents.co.uk

+44 (0)203 214 0956

Publications

Fiction

Publication Details	Notes
---------------------	-------

THE VERY	Shortlisted for the Orange Prize for Fiction 2010.
-----------------	----------------------------------------------------

THOUGHT OF YOU	England, 31st August 1939: the world is on the brink of war. As Hitler prepares to invade Poland, thousands of children are evacuated from London to escape the impending Blitz. Torn from her mother, eight-year-old Anna Sands is relocated with other children to a large Yorkshire estate which has been opened up to evacuees by Thomas and Elizabeth Ashton, an enigmatic childless couple. Soon Anna gets drawn into their unravelling relationship, seeing things that are not meant for her eyes - and finding herself part-witness and part-accomplice to a love affair, with unforeseen consequences.
-----------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

2009

Alma Books

A story of love, loss and complicated loyalties, combining a sweeping narrative with subtle psychological observation, THE VERY THOUGHT OF YOU is a haunting and memorable debut.